CHICAGO, FRIDAY, MARCH 24, 1899.

THE INGLESIDE INJUNCTION CASE.

Of the legal proceedings growing out of the ordinance passed by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors prohibiting betting on horse racing in San Francisco county, Sunday's Examiner says:

"The scent of victory is in the nostrils of the racetrack people. They believe they have beaten the police in the legal battle over the enforcement of the anti-gambling ordinance. Judge F. J. Murasky, of the Superior Court, after hearing arguments in the injunction proceedings brought to restrain Chief Lees and his men from entering the Ingleside track, remarked yesterday that he failed to find any law authorizing a peace officer to break into such a place as Ingleside upon the mere suspicion that a misdemeanor is being committed there.

"The matter will be argued at length next Friday, and a decision is expected before the next meeting of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club, which begins April 3.

"The case was taken before Judge Murasky by Attorney Ach, who sought to have the modification of the injunction issued by Judge Daingerfield on Friday set aside on the ground that the modification was made erroneously and improvidentially.

"Attorney Garret W. McEnerney, representing Chief Lees, said to the court:

"The Ingleside racecourse managers are simply attempting to secure protection in the violation of an ordinance of the city and county of San Francisco by means of an injunction which they ask from the Superior court."

"Attorney Henry Ach, representing the Jockey Club, denied this. He said the so-called ordinance is not even a quasi law, and asserted that so far as he knew, even this quasi law or pretended law, had not been violated.

"When District-attorney Murphy attempted to speak on the subject, Mr. Ach objected. He said this was a private suit between the race-horsemen on the one side and Chief of Police Lees on the other.

"I do not ask leave of counsel on the other side to appear in this matter, as I feel that I am in the discharge of a public duty," responded Mr. Murphy, and in this he was sustained by the Court.

"If the Chief of Police," said Ach, "has a right to march into the Ingleside racetrack, because he gets into his noddle an idea that somebody is violating an ordinance, he would have an equal right to march into any theater in the city with as many policemen as he pleased to call, and so fill up the house."

"Of course, he would have that right," retorted Mr. McEnerney, "if he had information that, day after day, illegal performances were being carried on there. Don't you think so?"

"In my judgment, no; not unless he is possessed of a warrant," replied Ach.

"Judge Murasky said he wished to be satisfied that the Chief of Police had a right to enter a place like Ingleside racetrack without a warrant on his mere suspicion that a misdemeanor was being committed, and requested counsel to direct their arguments and citations to that point, as it was not clear in his mind.

"An adjournment was taken until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, at which time affidavits were presented setting forth that the order modifying the original injunction was not improvidentially made, but that it was signed after a full investigation and discussion of the case by the judge who signed the original injunction.

"Judge Murasky said: 'During the intermission I have made an examination of the code, and I fail to find any law to authorize a peace officer to forcibly enter such a place as Ingleside racetrack upon the mere suspicion that a misdemeanor is about to be committed. I think the order modifying the original injunction was in some respects in excess of the jurisdiction of the court.'

"Mr. Ach announced that racing at Ingleside would be suspended for two weeks, and it was agreed that the case should go over until next Friday, the authority of the Chief of Police in the meantime remaining in full force, in accordance with the modified order.

"Mr. Ach said he wished to secure a decision as soon as possible, as the loss to his clients by reason of these police raids amounted to about $5,000 a day."

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

Speaking of the coming Little Rock meeting Captain C. A. Tilles says: "We have more horses at Clinton Park than ever before in the history of the track. Every stall is engaged. We expect seven car loads of horses from Memphis. Billy Bruen of St. Louis has been engaged to handle the starting gate, while Colonel S. M. Apperson of Little Rock will officiate as presiding judge at our meeting. The Arkansas Derby will be run the first day of the meeting. Some of the fastest three-year-olds on the western circuit are in this stake, and the prospects are bright for a cracking good race. Our two-year-old events all filled well and the chances are that some of the juvenile stars of the season will make their debut at Clinton Park at the coming meeting. Colonel Apperson writes that the citizens of Little Rock are greatly interested in the meeting, and are working hard for its success. With bad weather we did very well last year.

Mr. W. C. Whitney is said to have purchased the sixteen head of Meddler yearlings—three colts and thirteen fillies—at private sale from the Neponset Stud (estate of W. H. Forbes), Dedham, Mass. They were as follows: Bay colt, dam Silvie; chestnut colt, dam Nokomis; bay colt, dam Annot Lyle; bay filly, dam Little Lady; bay filly, dam Frolic Grace; bay filly, by Yodel; bay filly, dam Leonica; bay filly, dam Flageolet; chestnut filly, dam Spring Gun; chestnut filly, dam Onema; chestnut filly, dam Octavia; bay filly, dam Money Box; brown filly, dam Corazon; bay filly, dam Zegri; bay filly, dam Sunnyside; bay filly, dam Clie. The Annot Lyle colt is a good looking colt, and should race. The sister to Previous is a smart looking filly.

Names given the two-year-olds belonging to Messrs. Bromley & Co. are as follows: Matchem, br. c, by Hanover—Flying Witch. West Baden, ch. c, by Hanover—Miss Baden. Palatial, ch. c, by Order—Palace. Fonslee, ch. c, by Fons—Jennie Lee. Sir Matt, ch. c, by Sir Dixon—Mattie Amelia. Windmere, b. c, by Iroquois—Trade Wind. Templar, ch. c, by Order—Hattie B. Mesmerist, ch. c, by Albert—Hoodoo. Mirmedon, ch. c, by Fons—Hannarinda. Indian Fairy, ch. f, by Iroquois—Fairy. Iroquois Belle, b. f, by Iroquois—Yorkville Belle.

The name selected for the reputed star of the lot, the Hanover—Ursuline Nun colt, has not as yet been published. The older horses in training are Typhoon II, 5; On Deck, 5; Previous, 4, and the three-year-olds Composer, Andronicus, La Cheviot and Rose O'Lee.

Mr. J. D. Dearing's stable arrived at Little Rock from Beaver, Texas, a few days ago. It consists of the following horses:

Red River, b. c, 3, by Major Domo—White Seal.

Helen Paxton, b. f, 3, by Tom Paxton—Helen Bacteroft.

C. H. R. Jones, ch. c, 3, by Tom Paxton—Mary J.

Ada T., br. f, 3, by Tom Paxton—Planetta. Lillie Paxton, b. f, 3, by Tom Paxton—Lilly Fifth.

Two Slipper, ch. f, 2, by Strideaway—Redina.

THE CAHN STABLE.

Abe Cahn, the St. Louis turfman, has a nice stable of horses in training at the Memphis racetrack. Buckvidere, Linda, Verify, Sir Gatian, Darington and May d'Or are the most prominent of the older horses in the Cahn stable. Sir Gatian, Darington and May d'Or are three-year-olds. Sir Gatian, a chestnut colt, by Victory—Hegiaz, is supposed to be the best three-year-old in the stable. As a two-year-old Sir Gatian ran several highly creditable races, but he was a sulker and could never be relied on. If he ever gets over those sulking spells, Sir Gatian will make a mighty useful racing tool. Mr. Cahn won the Tennessee Derby two years ago with Buckvidere, whose victory over Typhoon II. and Algol was a big surprise to the turf world. Sir Gatian may give the talent another dose of the unexpected by winning the Derby for Mr. Cahn this season. Darington is a big chestnut colt, by Victory—Felicite. He was a growthy colt last spring, and his owner did not train him. He ought to make a handy horse this season. May d'Or, a chestnut filly, by Ormonde d'Or—Alice May, is Mr. Cahn's candidate for the Tennessee Oaks. May d'Or is a racy looking filly, having grown considerably since last fall. She wasn't raced much as a two-year-old. A list of the two-year-olds in Abe Cahn's stable will be found below:

El Derim, b. c, by Sir Dixon—Lady Faro. Southern Girl, br. f, by Free Knight—Sarah Davis.

Bit of Fashion, ch. f, by Forester—Welcome. Roncesvalles, b. g, by Blazes—Alice.

J. C. Cahn's stable includes Crocket, Belle Ward, Sorrow, Fausturo and Chancery. Crocket won the Kentucky Oaks last season. Belle Ward is a magnificent looking four-year-old bay filly, by Luke Blackburn—Maud Ward, the dam of Hugh Penny. Belle Ward was an exceedingly useful selling plater at the Fair Grounds last season. She has wintered well, being a much larger and more impressive looking filly than her stable companion, Crocket, who is the same age. Hugh Penny improved with age and his sister gives every indication of doing the same. A list of J. C. Cahn's two-year-olds will be found below:

Silver Fizz, ch. f, by Silver Fox—Tonique. Bay gelding, by Faustus—Nina W. Bay colt, by Top Gallant—El Myra. Chestnut colt, by Glenelg—Eastlake.

Charles Van Studdiford, the young St. Louis turfman, has a string of promising two-year-olds in training at the Fair Grounds. A list of them is as follows:

Mossitt, b. c, by Woodmoss—Ruby Prewitt. Sidbow, b. c, by Siddartha—Miss Dowling. Woodlecia, br. or blk. f, by Woodmoss—Helicia. Reconnesse, b. f, by Siddartha—Lady Nell. Coral, b. f, by Rossington—Helena. Woodrice, ch. c, by Woodmoss—Cantatrice. John Mingle is training Mr. Studdiford's stable, and he thinks pretty well of his two-year-old division. All of Mr. Studdiford's youngsters were bred by Dr. A. W. McAlester of Columbia, Mo. Belle of Memphis, Basquill, Johnny McHale and other well-known performers first saw the light of day at Dr. McAlester's farm.—St. Louis Republic.

BROMLEY & CO. GET O'CONNOR.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 23.—Tom Berry's string left last night for Memphis.

Bromley & Co. have purchased Winnie O'Connor's contract from W. C. Daly. O'Connor has been notified to leave for New York Saturday night.

HANOVER PUT TO DEATH.

Hanover is dead. He was chloroformed yesterday and put to death to save him from suffering. He was nerved in 1888 and after many years the benumbed foot lost vitality and was about to drop off. There was no escape from it, so in mercy he was passed over to the company of his mighty line of ancestors.

Hanover was the son of a magnificent racehorse and was himself a magnificent racehorse. As a two-year-old he started three times and won three times, the Hopeful, July and Sapling Stakes at Monmouth Park. His stable companion, the invincible Tremont, was sweeping everything before him that year, so Dwyer Bros. saved Hanover. That was in 1886. The next year as a three-year-old Hanover won fourteen straight races before he first met defeat. He ran twenty-seven times that year and won twenty races, including the Carlton Stakes and Brookdale Handicap at Brooklyn, Withers and Belmont at Jerome, the Brooklyn Derby, the Swift, Tidal, Coney Island Derby, Emporium and Spendrift Stakes at Sheepshead Bay, Stockton, Barnegat, Stevens and Champion Stakes at Monmouth Park, United States Hotel Stakes at Saratoga, Breckenridge and Dixie Stakes at Baltimore, and went into winter quarters with the well earned reputation of being one of the greatest horses of modern times. His first defeat was in the Raritan Stakes at Monmouth Park, when D. D. Withers' Laggard caused a profound sensation by overcoming the great son of Hindoo. Laggard carried 111 pounds, Hanover 128.

As a four-year-old Hanover did but little on account of a bad foot, but having in the meantime been nerved he came out in his five-year-old form and won nine races out of seventeen starts, including the Coney Island Cup, for which he defeated Firenze, and the Coney Island Stakes, in which he lowered the colors of Kingston and Badge. The California Stakes and Merchant Stakes at Saratoga and Express Stakes at Morris Park were among his other victories that year. He was then sold to Col. Milton Young and retired to the stud at McGrathiana. There he won fresh fame and for a number of years in succession has been the uncontested premier sire of America. His loss is a great one to the breeding interests of this country, but his great son Hamburg may carry on the illustrious line that runs Glencoe, Vandal, Virgil, Hindoo, Hanover.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Paddy Tomlinson, who is training Freak for the Tennessee Oaks, thinks he has the best three-year-old filly in the west. Freak is a chestnut filly, by St. Blaise—Forever, the dam of Forget. She was bred by and still belongs to E. S. Gardner. Freak was shipped to Tomlinson at Memphis about two weeks ago and Paddy has been sending her along. In a letter to Colonel William L. Cassidy, Tomlinson says that Freak is by far the best three-year-old filly at Montgomery Park. Barring accidents, Paddy thinks she has the Tennessee Oaks at her mercy.

The "show" odds on McAllister in the fifth race at New Orleans Thursday was 1 to 2 and not 3 to 2 as printed in DAILY RACING FORM.

Jockey Rutter has left San Francisco for Memphis. It is reported that he is under engagement to ride for T. H. Ryan this year.

Briar Sweet will not be taken east much before June 1, and will then go direct to Sheepshead Bay.—Breeder and Sportsman.

W. B. Jennings' promising two-year-old filly The Convert, by St. Saviour—La Belle Juive, died at San Francisco Saturday.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Track work was resumed by horses stabled at Morris Park and the Long Island courses Monday, a circuit by harrows at each track suffic-ing to make the going safe. The recent spell of bad weather has not harmed the horses, probably owing to their not being far advanced in spring training. Few cases of indisposition are severe enough to claim the attention of veteri-naries, the health average of the stables ruling especially good for this period of the year.

Tom Tracey, the pugilist, acting under the advice of his friend, Al Smith, has invested some of his prize-ring winnings in horseflesh.
Montallade and The Wooser are now the property of Tracey. Both racers are breadwinners and with a careful man like Smith to handle them should prove good investments.—San Francisco Examiner.

Several members of F. V. Alexandre's stable have been shipped to Benning's to take part in the Washington Jockey Club's spring meeting at that course. Sanders, Leando and Ben Viking are the principal members of the Washington consignment. The string wintered at old Monmouth and look to be within a fortnight of racing pitch.

W. Oliver, who has wintered his string among the pines at Lakewood, N. J., is ready to move into campaigning quarters and will ship to Sheephead Bay this week. Warrenton is his particular star. The good four-year-old is in fine shape and will receive a special preparation for the Brooklyn Handicap.

A FEW YEARLIES FOR SALE.

Some of the many courteous men who study
DAILY RACING FORM have sent enough back numbers of the monthlies to make up five more copies of Yearly Racing Form. The book is a glory. Nothing like it in the way of racing literature was ever published before. Within its 3,500 pages are full charts of regular racing from January 1, 1898—No. 3492—to December 31, 1898—No. 10186. That means the full charts of 6,694 races. Yearly Racing Form is luxuriously bound in heavy morocco covers.

It's index runs from January 1, 1897 to December 31, 1898—two years—and is on linen paper with a lettered thumb index.

The first book of this class was built for the editor of DAILY RACING FORM. It served him so well that all the spare sheets of 1898 form were bound into annuals of the same type.
Five are being made up and are for sale at $20 per copy. The few books will be sold on the order of application.
